CSU Writes

Director Dr. Kristina Quynn

write. early. often. better. together.
CSU Writes

• Research writing focused
• Sustainable writing practices & productivity support

• 3 support streams:
  – GRAD Writes
  – DOC Writes
  – FACULTY Writes

• Diverse and Inclusive Offerings
• Funded by

GRADUATE SCHOOL
COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY

VICE PRESIDENT
FOR RESEARCH
COLORADO STATE UNIVERSITY
GRAD Writes
Offerings

- Workshops:
  - PRODUCTIVITY; MANUSCRIPT BUILDING; EDITING; & WELLBEING
- Intensive Writing Retreats
- Peer Writing Groups
- Peer Editing Groups
- show up & write.
- Guest Talks & Panels
write. early. often. better. together.

- Designated Offerings for Researchers of Historically Marginalized Groups: Researchers of Color, Gender Inclusive, First-Generation.

BEHIND THE SCENES

- GRAD Paid Internships
- CSU Writes Volunteers
- GRAD College Ambassadors
Participation from ALL Colleges

CSU Writes’ Interns to date have come from:
Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, Computer Science, English, the College of Business, Microbiology, Biomedical Sciences, Psychology, Civil & Environmental Engineering.

“As a scientist you are professional writer.”

-Joshua Schimel, Writing Science
Website

Program information

Register for offerings

https://csuwrites.colostate.edu

*Please note: CSU Writes is NOT the “Writing Center.”
Welcome to CSU

There are many ways to participate in CSU Writes and in the ever-growing research writing culture at CSU.

CSU Writes participants range from the incoming graduate student to the award-winning faculty member, both of whom may be working on processes of time-management, strategies for creating clarity and concision, or understanding the limitations of their proposal or manuscript from a reader’s perspective.

We welcome you to join the CSU Writes offerings that best suit your needs at the various stages you will move through as a research writer.

You are welcome here.